

The Chinese University of Hong Kong
Department of Psychology

Making Use of Your Resources

Come and learn about what we can offer you from the Chinese University Department of Psychology. Specifically, we will describe some case studies of the projects we have done for MNCs, local organizations and government services.

In this short seminar, we will also introduce a new tool we have created for the HR community. With our new “Knowledge-Sharing Website” we are making available to all a summary of the Industrial Organizational Psychology principles most useful for HR practitioners. This is a free offering and we want to ensure everyone knows about it.

Finally, we will be bringing in a practitioner to sit in a panel discussion to talk about how to select a test. That is, what HR practitioners need to consider when selecting a test from the many available today as assessment tools.

Who Should Attend:

All HR professionals, especially those who are involved in any way with selecting tests, managing assessment centers or other selection, training or talent development activities.

Admission Fee:

No Charge; however, due to space constraints, only the first 60 people who respond to the email address below will be invited.

Time and Date:

February 29, 2012, 2-4 pm

Location:

Unit B, 1/F, Bank of America Tower, 12 Harcourt Road, Central, Hong Kong
(Central MTR Station Exit J3 OR Admiralty MTR Station Exit B)

Registration:

Please send an email to: atc-cuhk@cuhk.edu.hk

You will be notified by return mail if your request has been accepted for the workshop. If you do not receive a return email, please assume that there is no more space. The Deadline for application in any case is: FEBRUARY 28, 6 PM.

*NOTE: There are only 60 spaces available for this seminar. Please register early!!

For enquiry, please contact James Cheng at 9217 9120 or email to atc-cuhk@cuhk.edu.hk